By Payton Moody

Need a gift for the person that has everything, or just something unique for a special someone? Look no further than Sister Act III Gifts and Crafts!

Located in Holdenville, Oklahoma, this aptly named business was formed in November 2019 by sisters Susan McDowell, Shelly Conrad and Sandy Carter. This quaint little store is the perfect place to find the perfect gift!

Sister Act III Gifts and Crafts offers a wide assortment of hand-made items at an affordable price. Each sister accomplishes a specific job that allows the store to thrive.

The middle sister, Shelly Conrad, does the woodwork and paintings, the oldest, Susan McDowell, does the majority of the refurbished pieces of furniture, including sewing and papercrafts, while the youngest, Sandy Carter, has years of experience with gift baskets, candy bouquets, balloons and much more!

Though the sisters are originally from Talihina, Oklahoma, they now call Holdenville home.

“We put our talents together so we can offer and sell a wide variety of items,” said youngest sister and co-owner Sandy Carter. “We love Holdenville and our customers!”

Sister Act III Gifts and Crafts has recently outgrown its first shop location and relocated to Main Street in Holdenville where they are able to offer more products with a larger space.

Sandy Carter is the only current employee/owner available to run the store. The other two sisters make bi-weekly trips to bring new items and help with the store, mostly on the weekends.

Sister Act III Gifts and Crafts is located at 111 West Main St. in Holdenville, Oklahoma. For more information regarding business hours and pricing, please visit their Facebook page here.
